DaMonica called today to say that the results of Shell's internal review are in, and Shell will not proceed with the small scale CCS project in Solano County.

The main reason cited is that the technology is being demonstrated by Shell in three other projects (in the Netherlands, Canada and Australia) and that there are still uncertainties regarding the regulatory environment in the US.

Dana Dean and Barbara Kornlyo are going to the County next Wednesday to tell them.

We are going to check in next week after the public comment period closes.

Shell is working on drafting a letter to EPA to say that the project is on hold indefinitely.

Shell will continue to be a member of WESTCARB.

DaMonica will be staying on with Shell.
